

Minister for Justice, Equality and Defence announces recognition of additional foreign registered relationships under the Civil Partnership and Certain Rights and Obligations of Cohabitants Act

The Minister for Justice, Equality and Defence, Mr Alan Shatter, T.D., has made an Order under the Civil Partnership and Certain Rights and Obligations of Cohabitants Act 2010 prescribing certain registered relationships entered into by same sex couples in other jurisdictions as entitled to be treated as equivalent to civil partnership under Irish law. The registered relationships now being afforded recognition are:

- Civil Partnerships from the Isle of Man,
- Civil Partnerships from South Africa,
- Civil Unions from Illinois, USA,
- Marriages from New York, USA,
- Domestic Partnerships from Oregon, USA, and
- Civil Unions from Rhode Island, USA.

The Order will come into effect on 25 December 2011.

Irish-based couples in any of these relationships will, from that date, be subject to the same legal regime and the same rights and obligations as a couple who register a civil partnership in Ireland. This includes rights and obligations in relation to shared property, pensions, inheritance and on break-up of the relationship. Civil partners are also treated in the same way as spouses under the tax, social welfare and domestic violence codes.

The making of this order brings the number of categories of recognised registered relationships to 39, from 32 jurisdictions.

Announcing the making of the order, the Minister said "This Order shows the Government's commitment to ensuring that same-sex couples who register their relationships in other jurisdictions may enjoy the full protections and benefits of the civil partnership legislation. Reform of the law in this area in other countries is ongoing, and we are ensuring that registered partners will enjoy recognition and protection of the law on return or relocation to Ireland."
